

STUART FRANKLIN PLATT

Rear Admiral, United States Navy (Retired)
Chairman and CEO, Harbor Wing Technologies Inc.
Former Chairman of the Board, The Wornick Company
Former President and CEO, Western Marine Electronics
Former President, DRS Technologies Data Systems Group

Admiral Stuart Platt draws on his extensive commercial and military experience to provide leadership and direction to Harbor Wing Technologies, Inc. As co-founder and innovator of the Harbor Wing's Autonomous Unmanned Surface Vessel concept, his primary responsibilities include setting the vision for the corporation, developing strategic relationships for growth and profitability, and guiding the development and marketing of the product line.

Admiral Platt also serves on the corporate board of DRS Technologies, Inc. He is the chairman of Historic Ships Foundation in San Francisco, and a Presidential Appointee to the Board of Governors of the United States Merchant Marine Academy. Previously, Admiral Platt was President and CEO of Western Marine Electronics (WESMAR), a leader in advanced commercial marine sonar systems; Chairman of the Ex-Wornick Company, suppliers of Combat and Humanitarian rations to the Department of Defense, and President of DRS Technologies (NYSE:DRS) Data Systems Group where he led the growth of DRS Precision Echo, a supplier of combat aircraft recording equipment.

Admiral Platt capped a distinguished career in the U.S. Navy with his appointment during the Reagan administration to serve as the country's first Competition Advocate General (the Navy's top businessman in uniform). He also served as the Deputy Commander of the Naval Sea Systems Command, with responsibility for acquisition of Navy surface warships and submarines. Admiral Platt was recently named to the Cold War Leadership Hall of Fame by the Submarine Force Museum Association and is a highly-decorated Vietnam veteran.

Admiral Platt holds a MS (Operations Analysis) from the Simon Graduate School of Business, as well as a BS degree from the University of Rochester, and an MBA from the University of Michigan. He is a former Wall Street Journal Scholar and is a graduate of the Executive Program at Stanford University's Graduate School of Business.

He is the published author of two books (The Armament Tide: Rearming America, and Letters from the Front Lines: Iraq and Afghanistan) and numerous Op-Ed and scholarly works.
