meet the Regional Administrators

The statewide work of the Department of Transportation is carried out in six regions - Eastern, North Central, South Central, Southwest, Olympic and Northwest. Often serving as ambassadors for the department - the six gents who are called Regional Administrators also are expert and hard-working managers.

They work with a variety of customers including individual citizens, agencies and elected officials at the federal, state and local levels, businesses and civic organizations. They manage everything from planning and property acquisition to design, construction and maintenance on the state system.

Don was passionate about the safety of the travelers on state highways and worked hard to improve WSDOT practices that strengthened the agency

...and celebrated...

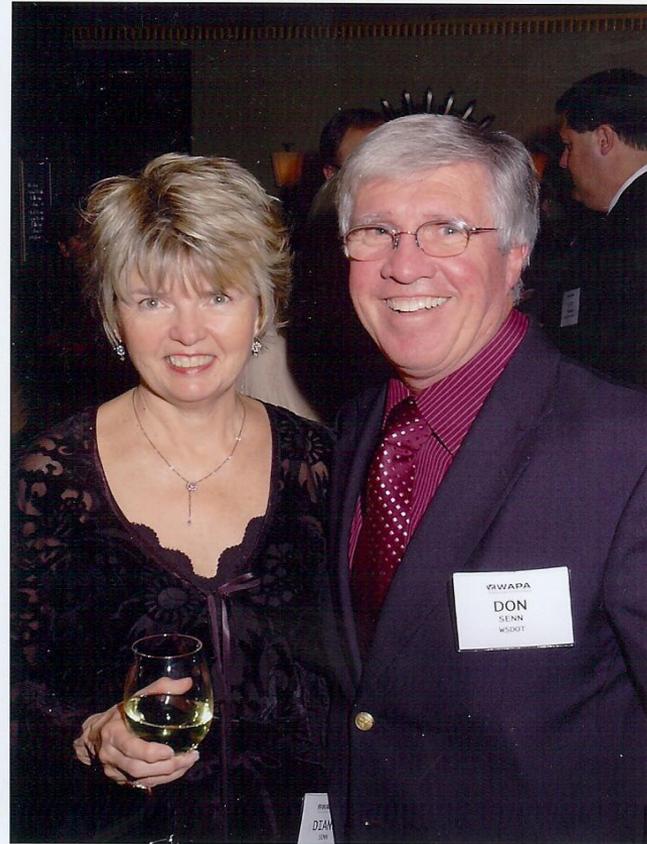

Don supported and mentored many ...

...and always made time for fun and friendship

Don's family was his pride and joy and his commitment of service to his neighbors and friends is legendary

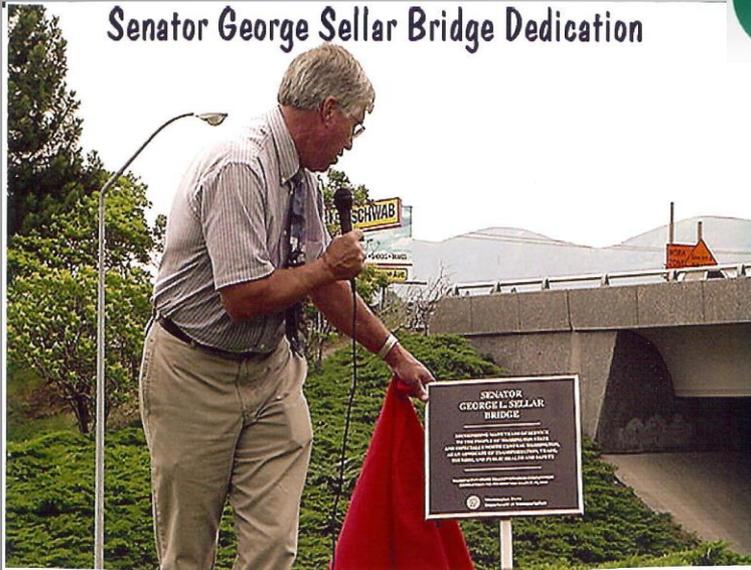

Don championed transportation investments that benefited his communities in North Central Washington

And, with the passage of the 2003 and 2005 transportation investments, celebrated the delivery of each and every project to demonstrate the value of taxpayer dollars
